Sub: Enrolment of Your Spouse as an Associate Member of CBROA

We are happy to inform you that as per the decision taken unanimously at the General Body Meeting held in Mysuru in April 2023, CBROA has opened its doors to the spouses of our existing members, welcoming them to join the Association as Associate Members.

This inclusive step is a reflection of our commitment to strengthen the CBROA family, by bringing our life members and their spouses closer to the mainstream of our organisation. We firmly believe that families are an integral part of our strength—and their involvement in our mission will further reinforce our unity and purpose.

CBROA has remained at the forefront of the retirees' movement, tirelessly working for justice, dignity, and legitimate rights of bank retirees through constructive engagements, persistent advocacy, and peaceful agitations. Over the years, we have grown into a pan-India platform of solidarity and service. Our activities—be it protests, awareness drives, welfare initiatives, or timely guidance on retiree-related matters—continue to make a meaningful difference.

By enrolling as Associate Members, your spouses will become part of this shared journey. They will have access to CBROA communications, welfare activities, life certificate support initiatives, and other retiree-centric developments. More importantly, they will become active stakeholders in the evolving role CBROA is playing in shaping the future of retiree welfare.

Enrolment requires a one-time contribution of Rs. 1,000 to help create a modest but dedicated welfare corpus for our extended CBROA family. This initiative is not about the size of benefits, but about the spirit of belonging and mutual support in times to come.

We deeply appreciate the positive response already received from many members who have come forward to nominate their spouses. If you have not yet done so, we warmly invite you to consider this gesture of togetherness by enrolling your spouse as an Associate Member of CBROA.
